Address By Lucas
Is Heard By Elba
Elba C. of C.

Oscar Vaughan, Jr., president for the first time as president at a membership dinner meeting of the Elba Chapter of Commerce Tuesday at Paul's Cafe when E. J. "Lake" Lucas, general sales manager, Dorsey Trallier, delivered an inspiring address about the place of a Chapter of Commerce in its community.

Mr. Lucas has been associated with truck transportation since 1916. Previous to coming to Dorsey in January, this year, he was vice president in charge of sales for the Kingham Tractor Company, and spent 10 years in the truck and tractor division of the Ford Motor Co. in Detroit and Louisville.

He served in the legislature of Kentucky, during World War II he was a member of the War Production Authority and during the Korean Conflict he was chief of the truck-trailer branch of the National Production Authority.

The Chamber discussed preparation of a brochure summarizing the salient facts about Elba.

Railroads Don't Recognize The Value
Of Ads, Is Claim

CHICAGO — Advertising is "a powerful tool for the railroads," according to Frank Richter, exec. vp and publisher, Modern Railroads, and "it is high time the industry took fuller advantage of it."

Mr. Richter told the Assn. of Railroad Advertising Managers yesterday that "there wouldn't be near the volume of transportation that there is today if advertising weren't so strong a force in making mass markets and making distribution patterns."

—Yes, there are railroad officials who contend vociferously that all advertising is the same.

He said, "Most railroads have n't given advertising a fair trial. Most railroads, in fact, haven't yet recognized the place advertising should occupy in their philosophy of business."

"There is nothing wrong with advertising as a fair trial. Most railroads, in fact, haven't yet recognized the place advertising should occupy in their philosophy of business."

Rule Is Eased On Real Estate Owned
By Pensioners

The Coffee County Department of Pensions and Security is putting into effect revised policies with regard to ownership of real property. Mrs.
Grace Ebert, Director said. She explained that some of the changes are more liberal than before and some may cause cases to be closed or payments reduced.

Old age pensioners may still own a homestead up to $2,500 net value (assessed value minus legal encumbrances), but they are now expected to attempt to get income from this property if at all possible. Also, if the homestead includes more than 160 acres of land, the pensioner or applicant is expected to attempt to sell any acreage over that amount.

Other policy revision explained by Mrs. Ebert has to do with the $1,000 reserve permitted old age pensioners. "They are still allowed this amount of reserve, but are expected to try to sell any real property owned individually or jointly other than the homestead," she said.

"Any amount received that would bring the reserve above the $1,000 limit must be considered in determining the pensioner's need for aid," Reserve includes such items as cash, savings bonds, an automobile, etc.

The Director said the Department could not approve a pension any person who is unwilling to meet the new requirements regarding use and sale of real property.

For other categories (the blind, totally and permanently disabled, and dependent children) the amount of real property owned has been changed.
Formerly the limit was $800 on all real property owned; now the homestead may be worth as much as $1,000 (assessed value minus legal encumbrances) and the recipient may have as much as $500 in reserve.
No such reserve was permitted in the past.

Annin, however, the recipient is expected to try to get income from his home (as was formerly true), to try to sell any land included in the homestead in excess of 160 acres, and to try to sell real property other than the homestead. Amounts received from such sale that would bring his reserve over $500 must be considered in determining the person's need for aid.

Mrs. Ebert also said that a life interest in property was not considered on the same basis as ownership, because there was seldom an opportunity to sell a life interest.

Jerry B. Brunson returned to his duties at the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Coffee County Monday, this week, after an absence of little more than a month. He was on leave during the summer months at the Elba National Guard, Alabama National Guard, of Georgia, in which he is a first lieutenant.

ARE WE READY?
(An Editorial)

A nationally-syndicated Washington business letter, whose forecasts have been accepted by business men for 36 years, confidently continues to predict a nation-wide business boom in the mid-1960's.

That, of course, applies to the nation as a whole. It does NOT mean that every city, town and hamlet in the U. S. will boom. In all periods of expansion, some places surge forward faster than others. Some actually go backward.

Thereby lies a challenge to Elba. The question naturally arises: will we get our share?

Jobs which include hazardous occupations such as elevator operator, truck driver, or helper, logger or sawmill work, require an 18-year age minimum, Williams pointed out.

Some suggestions to the boys 14 - 15 years old are: Cardiac, auto work, car washers and gas station attendants, farm work, greenhouse or nursery work, grocery store work, limi-tary assistants, newspaper carriers and sellers, office work, packing fresh fruits and vegetables, playground work, retail stores, restaurant work, shine boy, theatre work, and yard work.

Girls of this age might try these: baby-sitter, beauty operator, camp work, day nursery work, domestic service, farm work, library attendants, nursing aid, office work, packing fresh fruits and vegetables, receptionist, restaurant work, (inside only), retail stores and drug stores and theatre work.

Broaden Field
For boys and girls 16 and 17, the field is broader. It includes auto mechanic, bookkeeper, bus boy or girl, carpenter, construction work, curb boy, copy boy or girl, demolition work, dentist hygienist, dishwasher, and draftsman.

Also drug store work. Firefighter, hotel work, laboratory assistant, nurse, or nurses' aid, painter or helper, seaman, or TV announcer, bank clerk, or messenger, camp worker, canning fruit or vegetables, office or shipping clerk, building and construction laborer, repair, salesman, sewing machine operator, telephone operator or repairman, waiter and waitress (inside), stenographer a girl typist, stock boy and a penning others.

Even in this age group, work on certain hazardous machines is prohibited. Among those

CONSERVATION COUNTY SOIL NEWS

By T. C. Sell & Billy Taylor
John G. Sansom of Kingston has a stock water pond under construction. In addition to furnishing adequate stock water during dry summer months, these ponds provide fishing, fire protection, slower runoff of heavy rains to lowlands and aids in the recharge of the water table.

We are constantly reminded of the value attached to an adequate supply of clean water. Each year our river basins are silted in. Waste and pollutants are dumped into our streams in ever increasing quantities each year. Our population is near 100 million people. Our water problems can increase tremendously within the next generation or so.

Ball clover seed will be available this year in a limited quantity. Ball has proven to be one of the better clovers for this area, having excellent reseeding characteristics. Roughing in on a balsa sod has proven to be successful. One to three pounds of seed per acre are required. Planting time and other treatments are similar to crimson clover. Ball seems to reseed better than crimson under continuous grazing.

Those interested in securing seed are urged to see ECS personnel.

The Thrifty HOUSEWIFE KNOWS SHE PROFITS FROM ADVERTISING!

She Has Found From Experience that she fares Better When She Buys From Those Stores Which Advertise Regularly in Newspapers!

The Wise MERCHANT KNOWS HE PROFITS FROM ADVERTISING!

No business has to advertise. An experienced ad man is the first to disagree with the oft-repeated statement that 'You have to advertise.' Because you don't. But the most successful merchants are those who advertise. Because they want to let their customers know about their latest values and they have no fear to let their competitors know the same as their customers.

There are definite rules how to use it and the first rule is to budget the advertising the same as to budget the rent, payroll, gas, lights and water. Regular advertising is the keynote. No longer is advertising for clearance sales only. Customers want to know about regular price line merchandise too.

And there must be some reason why there is more advertising done in newspapers than in any other media. In fact, there is as much advertising done in newspapers as in the next highest three media combined.

All advertising is good, some better than others!

COUNTY SOIL NEWS

By T. C. Self & Billy Taylor

John C. Sanson of Kinston has a stock water pond under construction. In addition to furnishing adequate stock water during dry summer months, these ponds provide fishing, fire protection, slower runoff of heavy rains to lowlands and aids in the recharge of the water table.

We are constantly reminded of the value attached to an adequate supply of clean water. Each year our river basins are silted in. Waste and pollutants are dumped into our streams in ever increasing quantities each year. Our population is near 190 million people. Our water problems can increase tremendously within the next generation or so.

Ball clover seed will be available this year in a limited quantity. Ball has proven to be one of the better clovers for this area, having excellent reseeding characteristics. Roughing in on a balla sod has proven to be successful. One to three pounds of seed per acre are required. Planting time and other treatments are similar to crimson clover. Ball seems to reseed better than crimson under continuous grazing.

Those interested in securing seed are urged to see SCS personnel.

Livestock Health Hints

Prepared by American Foundation for Animal Health

"With the season of strong sunlight now here, some livestock owners will again be running into trouble with a peculiar disease problem known as 'photo-sensitization'."

It strikes the white or non-pigmented areas on farm animals—such places as the ears, eyelids, nose, lips and face, and the backs of newly-shorn sheep.

Summer sunshine can cause real sickness among some farm animals under certain conditions.

The disease may look like sunburn. However, it is far more severe than that. A combination of two factors brings it about. Livestock graze on certain types of weeds or pastures which cause a chemical reaction in the system, making animals very sensitive to sun. Then, strong sunlight strikes the "sensitized" animals, bringing on the sickness.

Symptoms of this trouble include restlessness, animals shaking their heads, rubbing against posts or buildings. Pigs may walk as if it were painful to do so. Sometimes ears will become thickened, or eyelids swollen-together. In sheep, swellings occur around the head, giving the disease its name "bighead."

What to do when livestock begin to show any of these signs? The first thing is to have a veterinarian check them to see what the trouble is, and adopt a course of treatment to get them back in condition as soon as possible.

Next, is taking protective steps to see what forage is causing the trouble.

Sick animals should be placed in darkened quarters or shady areas. Offending plants should be cleaned out, if possible. Some plants known to cause this trouble include: young or blooming buckwheat, alfalfa, ladino clover, rape, Bermuda grass, St. John's wort, and there are quite a few others.

The important point is that strong sunlight is now here. Livestock owners should keep watch for anything that looks like "sunburn," and do something about it promptly, if it shows up.

This is his first phase of six months active duty training with the U. S. Army and a part of the obligation he incurred upon enlisting in the Army Reserve.

Hearts may be attracted by assumed qualities, but the affections are not to be fixed but by those that are real.

Bob Godwin Still Likes His Eggs At Breakfast

Eggs—one of the most nutritious foods known—have been slandered and libeled, says Bob Godwin of Bob's Feed Mills and Bob's Eggs, Brundidge. He's convinced that eggs, his favorite breakfast food, have been publicly blamed for having more to do with diseases of the heart and blood vessels than can be scientifically justified.

Mr. Godwin sells feed and eggs and is concerned with the prosperity of the poultry industry, but he also happens to like eggs. And he eats them every day, even though a few friends have told him they heard that "eggs are bad for you."

Mr. Godwin understands that some physicians have ruled eggs out of the diets of their cardiovascular patients and he has read in magazines and newspapers that eggs are high in cholesterol and in non-essential fatty acids, and therefore may contribute to atherosclerosis.

Mr. Godwin isn't scared of those "warnings," because he has read quite a bit about the nutritive value of eggs and what scientists have to say about atherosclerosis and coronary artery disease.

For instance, Dr. Elton L. Johnson, head, department of poultry husbandry, University of Minnesota, says, "Eggs should continue to be an important part of the daily diet of most people and should not be restricted as a part of total caloric restriction since evidence does not link human consumption of eggs with the development of atherosclerosis."

Legal documents for use in establishing proof of marriages, divorces and birth of children if obtained now can save veterans' widows much time later on if they expect to come under the new pension law which becomes effective July 1.

HOW TO REPAIR SPLIT CROTCHES

Forest fires damage many trees. Be careful with fire!

Fence-sitting isn't the safest occupation for the small fry, even if it is fun.

But fence-sitting for grown-ups is neither safe nor fun!

A man has to take a stand. He must let the world know his convictions. He must live them! The principles in which we believe can perish while we dawdle uncommitted, uncertain or unchurched.

Behind the iron curtain men who are determined to overthrow freedom and faith hide neither their communism nor their atheism.

Here in America on a Sunday morning: no man can afford to sit on the fence if he believes in God, and in the right to worship Him in the Church of his choice.

Who's calling the signals?

You are. When it comes to future happiness of your children, they must depend on you to guide them, to help them grow up straight and strong. And most of all, to give them a peaceful world to grow up in.

What can you do about peace? Keep in mind that peace costs money. Money for military and industrial strength. Money for science and education. Any money saved by individuals—like you—to keep our economy healthy.

You can help pay America's "peace bills." How? By buying U.S. Savings Bonds. Your Bond money not only brings you a good return; it helps strengthen America's Peace Power, too.

Are you buying as many Bonds as you might?

U.S. SAVINGS BONDS NOW PAY 3 3/4% INTEREST

Three big, new cash benefits make the Bonds you buy and the Bonds you already own better than ever:

1. All Series E and H Bonds bought on or after June 1, 1959 now earn 3 3/4% interest when held to maturity.
2. Your older Bonds will also pay more—an extra 1/8% from June 1 on, if you hold them to maturity.
3. All Series E Bonds, old or new, now carry an automatic extension privilege: they'll keep paying liberal interest for as long as 10 years beyond maturity.
